Dear Parents and Carers

26th September 2023

It has been brought to our attention that many of our young people are playing on online games such as Roblox. The game has the ability to talk to others - something that has been abused by some. Please ensure your child's settings are age appropriate.

If you are allowing your child to play online, please have an open dialogue about the games they are playing and who they are communicating with. It might be useful to look at the chat they have been having too.

Please talk to us about any issues you are having.

The NSPCC also have further information by clicking the below link:-

Thank you for your continued support,

Kind Regards
